	ALCON, (U) WebOps Russian SPOT Report 12 NOV 1435Z 2017: Pro-Kremlin Media Outlets Claim that US-led Coalition airstrike killed 10 Civilians in Deir ez-Zor, Syria. (U) At approximately 1000Z on 12 NOV 2017, citing Syrian Arab News Agency (SANA), Russian media outlets reported that US-led Coalition warplanes attacked the village of Duaiji in the province of Deir ez-Zor on the Syrian-Iraqi border and stated that the alleged airstrike killed 10 civilians. Citing SANA the article states that the aviation targeted residential sites in Tal al-Shayer where one of the airstrikes hit an ambulance and killed everyone in the vehicle. Separately, the article states that last Thursday on 09 NOV, the Syrian Permanent Mission to the United Nations sent a letter to the Secretary General of the UN and to the chairman of the Security Council accusing the US-led Coalition covering up the withdrawal of ISIS fighters from Raqqa and Deir ez-Zor during operations to liberate mentioned cities. Separately, the article mentions the Syrian Army's success in liberating the last stronghold of ISIS in the Syrian city of Abu-Kamal and the final stages of the fight against terrorists in Iraq where the military liberated Rumana district and moving towards Rawa city which is about 100 kilometers from Abu-Kamal. Separately, the article reports stated that the US-led Coalition actions are not coordinated with the official Syrian Government and the UN Security Council, and as a reminder that at the end of October the US-led Coalition admitted killing 786 civilians as a result of airstrikes conducted in Syria and Iraq from the beginning of the military operation against terrorists in August 2014. (S//REL) Initial Assessment: This topic is trending and resonating at a medium level with anti-US sentiment in the Russian IE. RWIP assesses that pro-Kremlin propagandists are amplifying these reports in order to degrade and slander the U.S.-led Coalition efforts in the region.
